EDMONTON REPORT

EDMONTON: It is a year ago this month that the first positive case of rabies was diagnosed in Alberta. It was discovered in a trapper's dog that had been bitten by a fox near Fort Fitzgerald.

That case was the first indication of what later became an epidemic of the maddening disease in the province's wildlife and touched off a widespread program of decimating the numbers of foxes, coyotes and other types of predatory animals.

There has been some decrease in the number of cases reported publicly in the past month or so, but officials of the provincial and federal veterinary services are warning that it is not the time to think of relaxing our vigilance.

"We haven't had as many cases in the past little while as in January, February and March," admitted Dr. E. E. Ballantyne, provincial director of veterinary services and chairman of the rabies central control committee. But he added, "The cases that have occurred indicate that there still is widespread infection."

He mentioned confirmed cases of rabies in a beaver at Grande Prairie, a cow at Keg River, a lamb, bitten by a coyote at Grassland, a fox near Drumheller a dog at Penhold. All these were reported recently and within a period of two weeks.

One reason why fewer cases are receiving public notice is the fact that in areas where rabies has been proven every fox and coyote killed is not sent to the laboratories for investigation. In addition there is the difficulty of shipping specimens from northern points, while reports from these centres also are often late. The control committee, of course, is asking that all suspicions of rabies in domestic animals be reported, no matter from which area of the province.

Dr. Ballantyne also credited the control program for decreasing the incidence.

"You couldn't possibly kill thousands of wild animals and not have some effect," he stated.

He pointed out that in some districts 700 to 900 coyotes alone have been destroyed. There were 5,477 wild animals killed in March in the province-wide fight to stop the spread of rabies. Largest group killed in the program so far have been foxes, then coyotes and wolves, followed by lynx, bear, cougars, skunks, and wolverine.

That the picture is not entirely dark was indicated at the recent convention of the Veterinary Medical Association of Alberta. Dr. Robert Connell of the Lethbridge veterinary research laboratory, said he believed rabies could and would be stamped out. He stressed the need for accurate diagnostic work.

This requires the help of citizens. Main thing to remember when killing an animal suspected of rabies is to preserve the brain, so that when the head is sent to veterinarians they have the brain intact. When at all possible the suspect should be kept under observation for 10 days.

Relaxation of control and vigilance could mean the spread of the disease would increase again, perhaps surpassing the rate of incidence of last fall and winter. Officials suggested that one of the worst things that could happen would be for citizens to become "indifferent to the necessity" of keeping their pets tethered and of being on the lookout for the disease in wildlife in their districts.

While there haven't been any confirmed cases of rabies in persons in the province, more than 100 humans have gone through the gruelling treatment against it, after having been bitten by dogs believed rabid, or after exposing themselves to possible infection.

Strangest case concerned a 12-pound rabid jack rabbit which hurled itself through a truck window near Ryley last month, killing itself.

The Vulcan Lionette Club was organized Monday evening, when District Governor Stanley Scales, assisted by president Earl Erickson and past presidents Boyd McKay, Budd Andrews and past president and secretary Charlie Fulton of the Lions Club installed the officers of the new club, as follows: president, Mrs. Alice Scales; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Helen McKay; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Edith Gottenberg. Two-year directors Mrs. Betty Saxby and Mrs. Winnie Elder; one-year directors, Mrs. Mae Spaeth and Mrs. Bea Richardson; Lion Tamer, Mrs. Hannah Matlock; Tail Twister, Mrs. Margaret Hanna. Meetings will be held the fourth Monday in each month, in the St. Aldhelm church hall. A delicious dinner was served Monday evening by the ladies of the Anglican Guild.

A. T. Baker Named Wht. Pool Manager

A. T. Baker

A. T. Baker of Nemiskam, has been appointed manager of the Alberta Wheat Pool. In making the announcement, Ben S. Plumer, chairman of the board of directors, stated:

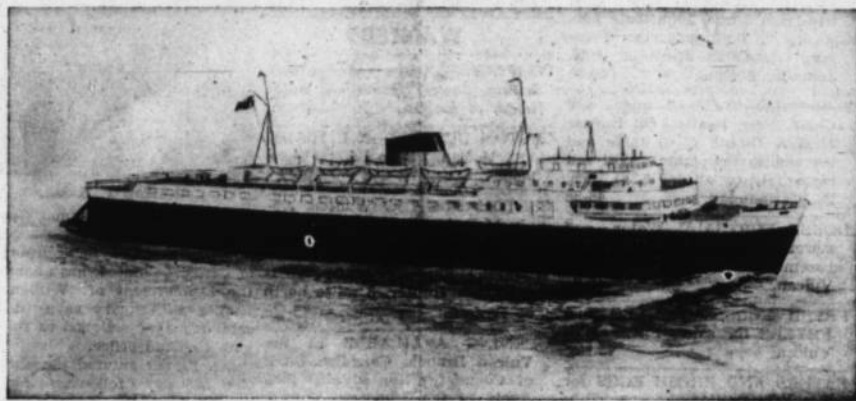

"Shortly after the passing of R. D. Purdy, former manager, T. E. Oliver was appointed acting manager of the Alberta Wheat Pool. Because of Mr. Oliver's health and the heavy responsibilities involved the board of directors have decided to appoint A. T. Baker, manager of the organization. Mr. Oliver will continue as assistant to Mr. Baker."

"Mr. Baker, has been a director of the Alberta Wheat Pool since 1945 and vice-chairman during the past three years. He is a young man whose farm background business training and experience in Pool affairs equip him for the position."

Albert T. Baker was born in Illinois and is the eldest son of Perren Baker, who was minister of education in the UFA government of Alberta. The Baker family came to Alberta in 1910 when the homestead rush was on and the father filed on land at Nemiskam, which is on the Lethbridge-Manitoba line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, about 60 miles southwest of Medicine Hat.

Albert T. Baker now operates the family farm which has grown to nine sections of land, is fully mechanized and has thousands of acres of crop each year. He was educated at the local school at Nemiskam, at high school in Edmonton and at the University of Alberta from which he graduated in 1928, after which he took over the management of the farm. He was married in 1933 to Agnes Phipps, of Cochrane, and they have two children—both girls.

Mr. Baker Sr. took an early interest in the farmer movement in Alberta and was elected member of the legislature for the Cypress constituency when the farmer government gained power in the 1921 election. He served as member for Cypress until 1935. Albert followed the example of his father in interesting himself in farmer movements and was elected a delegate to the Alberta Wheat Pool in 1941. In 1945 he was elected director for the Lethbridge division in succession to Christian Jensen of Magrath, who served in that capacity for 22 years.

Scholarship Will Benefit Best Carmangay Students

Commencing next year, the student graduating from the high school in the Village of Carmangay, with the highest average marks for that year in his or her class, will be awarded the Andrew Haworth Scholarship.

The scholarship is being set up this month under the terms of the will of the late Andrew Haworth of Carmangay, who bequeathed the sum of $10,000.00 to the County of Vulcan to be invested in "stocks, debentures or securities" of the Government of Canada or the Government of Alberta, with the income arising therefrom each year to be known as the "Andrew Haworth Scholarship" and to be awarded annually to the student graduating from the Carmangay High School with the highest average marks.

If invested at a 4 1/2 per cent interest rate the bequest will yield about $450 each year.

40th Anniversary Agric. School

The Fortieth Anniversary of the Oids School of Agriculture and Home Economics is to be commemorated July 10, 1953, by a general reunion and dance.

A full program of interest and entertainment has been arranged for the day, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The dance to be held in the O.S.A. gymnasium, is to start at 9 p.m. and conclude at 2:30 p.m. Meals and midnight lunch will be served at the school.

O.S.A., in its fortieth year of operation, extends a cordial invitation to all former students and staff members and their friends. All are urged to come to renew acquaintances; to reminisce; to see the School in summer; to meet the present staff; to enjoy a day off.

The reunion and dance is sponsored by the O.S.A. Alumni Association: J. E. Birdsall, principal, School of Agriculture and Home Economics, Harold V. Schielke of Carstairs, president; Fred C. Jorgenson of Oids, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. L. Ortwein of Oids, assistant secretary; M. W. Malson of Oids, honorary president.

Surprise Party

Thursday evening last some 40 young people of the EUB church surprised Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartung, newly weds of the Reid Hill district, at their home and tendered them a welcome. Games and contests were the order of the evening after which, Norman Lebsack, on behalf of the Fellowship group of the church presented the honored couple with a lovely painting of Christ, for their new home. Mr. Hartung very suitably thanked the friends for the good wishes and gift. A delicious lunch was served by the ladies present.

50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Howlett of Edmonton observed their golden wedding anniversary at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Lloyd, at a family dinner on Sunday. Present also were Mr. and Mrs. George Linklater, their other daughter

Stavely Beats Vulcan Elks

One of the best ball games seen here for many a year took place on Sunday, when Vulcan dropped an eleven-inning game to the league leading Stavely team by a 9-7 score.

The game was close all the way, with both teams forced to use two pitchers. Vulcan pitchers were McAttee and Jancola, with Wynn doing the catching.

Regular Meeting Ladies Auxiliary

The last meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion before the summer recess was held in the Legion hall Wednesday evening last, with a good attendance of members. Also present were the ladies of the Queenstown-Milo branch, who were invited for this meeting. Mrs. H. Matlock, the president was in the chair and conducted the meeting assisted by the secretary, Mrs. Olga Miller.

Mrs. A. C. Marsh, a former member who had transferred to the Sundre branch was welcomed back.

Routine business matters were dealt with and correspondence read. A donation of $10 was made to the Cancer Fund and Mrs. Jack Marshall agreed to serve as representative at the next meeting of the Vulcan Library to be held after the holidays.

The matter of collecting used nylon to be sent to the disabled veterans' hospital was discussed and Mrs. B. Dann was again named convener in charge of this project. Committees were appointed to handle the sale of wreaths and poppies for next Memorial day.

Splendid reports were given by Mrs. Matlock and Mrs. Miller, who had attended the recent provincial convention of the Legion held at Edmonton. Much useful and interesting information was given by both delegates, who reported this convention the largest provincial one yet held.

At the close of the business session the guests moved to the dance hall, where a White Elephant sale and program were presented. Mrs. Miller once again proved herself a most capable and jolly auctioneer and bidding was brisk. Following the sale Mrs. Gordon Bell, as entertainment convener, read a number of Daffy Definitions, which were very comical, after which she introduced Louise Loucks, who very ably entertained the gathering with two beautifully executed tap dances accompanied by Mrs. Schwartz, followed by piano selections by little Jean Ann Matlock, also extremely well done. Mrs. Lillian Lancaster accompanied also by Mrs. Schwartz favored the ladies with two very much appreciated vocal numbers.

To conclude the evening's program a delicious lunch was served by the refreshment committee appointed for the occasion.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. John Hartung assisted by Mrs. Albert Schierman, Mrs. Otto Hauser, Miss Eleanor Fritzier and the Misses Irene, Rosalie and Eleanor Hartung to bring the afternoon gathering to a happy conclusion.

Donations To Elks' Park Fund

Some confusion arose last year when credit for a large donation to the Elks' Memorial Park was given the wrong organization.

In order to set the record straight, the Park Committee has advised that donations of $100 were received from both organizations, as follows:

From the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, $100.00. From the Order of the Royal Purple, $100.00.

The Park Committee is very appreciative of any donations received for the purpose of maintaining and further beautifying the park and extends thanks to both these organizations for their generous assistance.

Donations to the park should be made direct to G. C. Collier, Secretary of the Elks Memorial Park Fund, and will be acknowledged by official receipts.

Candlelight Circle Plans Wiener Roast

The June meeting of the Candlelight Circle of the Church of Christ was held at the home of Mrs. George Deal. Eighteen members and two visitors were present. Roll call was answered with a Bible verse and old Sunday School papers were turned in to be sent to Jamaica.

After a brief business period it was decided that the members would entertain their families at a wiener roast on July 16. The devotional thought was brought by Miss Berna Rozyhl, a visitor from Eugene, Oregon, and Mrs. Gordon Gardner rendered a lovely solo. $13.77 was realized from an auction sale of house plants followed with the social part of the evening conducted by Mrs. John Haydamack.

A lovely lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Stan Wickstrom.

Will Try New Street Surfacing

An experiment in street surfacing will be tried out in Vulcan this year, with three blocks of the main street, from the C.P.R. depot west, to be treated.

The 40 foot centre section of the street will receive the semi-hard surfacing treatment recently developed by Imperial Oil and successfully tried last year in Innisfail.

Shower Honors June Bride

Honoring a June bride, Mrs. Edw. Hartung, the former Helanda Deimert of Weyburn, Sask., a miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. John Hartung last Thursday afternoon. A pleasant social hour was enjoyed by solving different contests conducted by Eleanor Fritzier and Irene Hartung. Advice to the bride from the guests proved very amusing.

A decorated basket piled high with gifts from the over 50 assembled guests was presented to the guest of honor to shower her with many beautiful gifts for her new home.

Assisting Helanda in opening the colorfully wrapped parcels was her mother-in-law, Mrs. Jacob Hartung.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. John Hartung assisted by Mrs. Albert Schierman, Mrs. Otto Hauser, Miss Eleanor Fritzier and the Misses Irene, Rosalie and Eleanor Hartung to bring the afternoon gathering to a happy conclusion.

Warm Weather Needed

Over 10 Inches Rainfall In Past Three Months

The wet spring has continued throughout the month of June with almost daily showers. Records kept by Errett King show a total of 6.23 inches of rain received this past month, up to June 30. April precipitation was 2.49 inches and May 1.53 inches, to give a total of 10.25 inches of rain as measured in Vulcan, for the three-month growing season since April 1.

The 1952 rainfall for the same three-month period totalled 6.78 inches and in 1951 was 8.90 inches.

The 15-year average of rainfall for a 12-month period here is 14.59 inches.

Crops, though somewhat later than usual, are making good progress despite the lack of sunshine. The need of the moment is for about two weeks of warm, dry weather.

"Golden Banner" Sets Record In Winning Awards

For the past several years the Advocate has had the pleasure of recording awards won by Leon Bateman's Palomino stallion "Golden Banner" and this year, in again winning several awards at the Lethbridge Fair last week, the beautiful stallion has established an unofficial record. Mr. Bateman has shown "Golden Banner" at the Lethbridge Fair for the past seven years and, in that time the stallion has received well over 30 awards and has never failed to take a prize in any class he was entered in.

This year, he received four awards, as follows:

1st Prize—Palomino Stallion, 2 years or over, parade or pleasure type, halter class.

1st Prize—Palomino Stallion, parade or pleasure type, 2 years or over under saddle.

2nd Prize—Best colored Palomino in show.

2nd Prize—Open, matched saddle pair. Teamed with "Sundown Mac" owned by Mrs. Goldie McLean of Taber.

A lovely lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Stan Wickstrom.

W. A. Shields Is Police Magistrate

W. A. Shields has received word of his appointment as Police Magistrate, to fill the position left up-en by the death of the late Her-man Spanks.

With a background of eight years experience in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police before coming to Vulcan, Mr. Shields is familiar with the duties of the office and should prove a capable Police Magistrate.

Wins $730.00

Mrs. Alvin Jacobson of the Vulcan district was the winner of the $730.00 jackpot on CFAC's Monte Carlo program on Tuesday of this week.

Offer Scholarships In Nursing

Two nursing scholarships, carrying a total value of $900, will be offered by The Calgary Herald for the first time this year to two girls graduating from high schools in Southern Alberta.

The scholarships, to be awarded annually, are the first to be offered Southern Alberta high school students for study in nursing.

One of the winners will enter the Calgary General hospital school of nursing and the other will take her training at the Holy Cross hospital. Basis of award is merit rather than need.

Stimulation of interest in the nursing profession which is suffering from a severe shortage of trained personnel both here and in the U.S., is the purpose of the two $450 scholarships.

The committee set up to choose the scholarship winners will be assisted by letters from high school principals or other responsible persons on high school faculties in the south. The students' participation in school activities, evidences of leadership as well as scholastic ability will play an important part in the judges' decision.

A Highway in Name Only

Note to the Minister of Highways and District
Highway Engineer:

Before some contractor puts equipment on the job to regrade Highway 23 from Vulcan North to Carmangay, it might be wise to check and see if there is any highway left between Vulcan and Vulcan North (Corner Store).

On Monday, it took one party three hours to come these 12 miles and we'd hesitate to guess how many broken springs and otherwise damaged cars are the direct result of the present condition of this stretch of highway.

Even to the inexperienced eye, it is obvious that some rebuilding work must be done on these 12 miles before a gravel surfacing job is undertaken.

It appears to be about time that the Department of Highways spent a little less time and money on the relatively lightly-travelled east-west highways and paid a little more attention to providing good roads for the heavy north-south traffic.

Worst Weed of the West

Two prairie pests which have managed to survive and even thrive along with the advance of settlement and agriculture are the coyote and wild oat. The wild animal and the wild grain have learned to adapt themselves to changing conditions and get along well.
Wild oats do an even better job in surviving than do the coyotes.

About 54,000,000 acres of land are under crops annually in the three prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. About 40,000,000 acres have some infestation of wild oats and 18,000,000 acres are seriously infested. To date no method has been devised to deal effectively with the wild oats problem. Infestation has been reduced by delayed seeding while the land is being cultivated, by the sowing of early ripening grains such as oats, barley and fall rye, by the use of the rod weeder, and so on. But such methods merely delay the spread of the pestiferous weed.

Scientists are working on the problem and there is hope ahead. The herbicide 2, 4-D, so effective with many types of weeds, is of no use for killing wild oats. But other chemicals are being developed which will kill the life of the oat seed in the soil, or prevent the plant from emerging. One chemical will give a good percentage of wild oat kill even when that weed is with growing wheat and other grains.

A wild oat seed is encased in a very effective coating. It can remain buried for years in the soil and still retain ability to germinate and produce a plant.
When the seed first falls to the ground it will not germinate. It must pass through a process of drying and wetting, plus the action of frost. The grain likes cold weather for its germinating process and hence gets a head start in the spring.

Wild oats are the bane of grain producers. It will be a blessed day when some smart scientists, or group of such, come up with a spray which will be the death knell of this "worst weed of the west." — Brooks Bulletin.

Jet Age Cars— Stone Age Roads

These have been big days in Canada's husky automobile industry. Right on schedule the first car rolled off Ford's huge, new Oakville plant. General Motors announced a record expansion at Oshawa. At Windsor the addition to Chrysler's is under way.

All this means that the earlier predictions of 50% more automotive vehicles in Canada by 1960 will certainly be fulfilled. The cars and trucks are coming.
What about the roads to put them on?

Hundreds of millions of dollars have been thrown away in street and highway construction in Canada in the last 10 years because we did not look ahead.
Instead of separating local and through traffic usually we channeled them both into the same main street of every city, town and village. Vital city street extension and widening projects were delayed until we had to blast through all sorts of expensive real estate.
Through highways supposed to be adequate for a decade, or more became cluttered in three or four years.

If we don't want to see this confusion and waste repeated on even a larger scale we had better start making room for tomorrow's cars today, says The Financial Post.

A Few Questions To Ask The Printing Peddler

When the peddler selling stationery and printing sup-which he should be willing to answer to your satisfac-

1. Does he pay taxes in this community?
2. Can he supply your order on short notice?
3. Does he donate space in the newspaper to your local community enterprises?
4. Does he pay wages to a force of employees located in Vulcan?
5. Does his newspaper donate its entire space toward the betterment and upbuilding of this community?
6. Does he grant you every favor that you would ordinarily ask of your local newspaper?
7. Does the quality of his merchandise stand inspection?
8. Does his price include postage and insurance charges?

If he can answer ALL the above questions in the affirmative, he has an equal right to your business

Watch for Poisonous Weeds

Recently several instances of trouble with poisonous weeds have been brought to our attention. In one case low larkspur was traced down as the cause of trouble, in the other cases death camas may have been the offender.

Poisonous weeds usually commence to grow early in the spring before the native grasses make much progress, and for this reason are sometimes eaten by livestock. The belief is also held by some that certain of these poisonous plants are even more poisonous when wet with rain or dew. There would also appear to be greater danger during excessive wet periods such as we have just experienced as this may make it possible for a grazing animal to pull up at least part of the rootstock or root of the plant. In the case of such plants as water hemlock and death camas the poisonous material appears to be concentrated in the root. The root of water hemlock is very poisonous and only a portion is required to kill a mature animal very quickly.

Last year during the latter part of June, I had the chance to observe water hemlock poisoning. The animal, which was a mature cow, only travelled a little over 100 yards after eating the poison, this gives a fair idea of the potency of the poisonous material contained in the root of water hemlock.

If certain areas of range are known to contain poisonous plants the situation may be handled in a number of ways. The poisonous plants may be eradicated by cultivation and re-seeding or if there are only a few plants they may be dug out. In other cases fencing off the weed infested area may be more practical. If this is done the stock may be turned into the area after the period of greatest danger is past.

The value of salt and minerals should not be overlooked. As a lack of either causes the animals to have a depraved appetite. An animal with a depraved appetite will eat poisonous plants that otherwise it would not touch if its appetite were normal.

Salt and minerals should not be placed in areas where poisonous plants are suspected to be growing.

For more information on this subject ask your local district agriculturist for the bulletin entitled, "Weeds Poisonous to Livestock."

EDMONTON REPORT

EDMONTON: Eyes of the nation's political observers will be turned with special interest on Canada's western provinces from now until the results of the August 10th general election are known.

With the Social Credit party moving into power in B.C. apparently as a majority government, the party's popularity in Alberta and the CCF support in Saskatchewan, political pundits are toying with the question of what is happening to the old-line parties in the west. The swing away from the traditional Tories and Grits is a puzzle to the average Easterner.

Preparations for the summer election are going full tilt with thousands of enumerators registering potential voters and nomination meetings being held regularly throughout the province.

Up to the middle of last week a total of 56 candidates had been nominated at meetings conducted by five political parties in the province's 17 federal ridings.

The breakdown was: Liberals, 17; Labor-Progressive, 12; CCF, 11; Progressive Conservative, 7; Social Credit, 9. More meetings are scheduled for this and ensuing weeks by all the parties, except Liberal which has nominated contestants for all constituencies.

Noticeable is the boost in the number of LPP nominations. The party only placed two members in Alberta ridings in the last federal campaign in 1949. Neither was elected.

Only the Social Credit and Liberal parties nominated for the whole 17 ridings in 1949 with the Conservatives battling in 14 and CCF-ers in 13. Indications are that these parties will place about the same number in the present campaign.

In cases you have forgotten Alberta's representation in the House of Commons after the 1949 election consisted of 10 Social Crediters, five Liberals and two Conservatives, both elected in Calgary ridings.

Of the 492,228 Alberta citizens eligible to vote that year, 341,222 exercised the right, with 126,507 of them marking an "X" beside the name of the Social Credit candidate in their constituency.

Start of the Alberta government's driver testing was announced last week and will be next Monday (July 6.) Legislation for the set-up has been on the books for some time but an earlier start was delayed, officials said pending a complete investigation of systems adopted in other provinces and states.

Even after Monday thousands of new drivers' licenses will be issued to persons who have not been tested, for the start will be made only in Edmonton and Calgary and within a 15-mile radius of those centres. Only indication given as to how long it will be before the program is extended was the officials' remark that a year has gone by since Manitoba started testing in Winnipeg alone and has not extended to smaller cities and towns.

"It won't take us that long," they said.

When the testing is broadened to include the rest of the province present plans call for a mobile testing station, which would make annual or twice annual visits to pre-designated centres.

No person will be issued a driver's license until he has passed the test, which will include a question and answer type of examination, a physical test and an actual driving test on the road. The same test will apply to persons whose drivers' licenses have been suspended or who are held responsible in serious motor accidents.

Some modifications may be made in the tests as they will be operated at first. Officials say one of the reasons the whole province is not in from the start is the desire to iron out the wrinkles in the system adopted.

Of course, until every driver has been tested (even many now holding licenses) there will be persons behind the wheel who have no right to be.

BANKERS ADVISE

ADVERTISING

Merchants who do not advertise are invited to read the following from the American Bankers Magazine, as it might give them a new slant on business, your own business, as well as the matter of building up your town.

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a 2-line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertiser. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business men."

The June meeting of the Guild of Emmanuel Church heard the report of the recent Coronation Tea and Fashion Show. Seventy-five ladies and a few gentlemen were served tea. The fashion show proved very successful and interesting thanks to the models—who were Mesdames George, Davies, Yocmans, Albert, Krasman, McLean and Misses Juanita Bakke, Doreen Whittle and Joan White. The costumes were supplied by Fay's Apparel of Lethbridge and Mrs. M. Jones of Champion.

Mrs. Edward Bravold won the souvenir dish and Mrs. J. Minty Jr. the coronation cake.

Plans were made for the annual parish picnic to be held at Baldwin's in July. The committee for the program is Mrs. Lee Baldwin, Mrs. W. McIntyre and Mrs. W. Sparkes.

The devotional for the afternoon was "Saints of Early Britain" a sketch of the life of St. Alban and St. Germanus.

The next regular meeting will be in August.

Cutforth - Hubka

An early summer wedding was solemnized at the Carmangay United Church on June 5 when Rev. Peter Dawson read the marriage lines for Joanne Marie Hubka, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hubka and Harold C. Cutforth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cutforth of Barons.

The bride entered the church with her father to the wedding march played by Billy Bach. She wore a floor length gown of white fashioned with lace bodice and nylon net yoke edged with lace and a satin hoop skirt with overskirt of nylon net. Her finger-tip length veil was held in place with a poke bonnet headress and she carried an arm bouquet of red roses.

She was attended by her sister, Dorothy Hubka as maid of honor and Barbara McFarland as bridesmaid. They wore ballerina-length gowns of net in blue and mauve respectively, with net stoles and bonnet headresses to match. Their flower girls wore pink and yellow arrangements of pink and yellow carnations.

The groom was attended by his brother, Wesley Cutforth of New Dayton and Bob Blacklock. The ushers were Lloyd Greene and Bob Shearer.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Delmer Shearer sang "The Wedding Prayer."

A reception was held in the church hall where the bride and groom and their parents received the guests. The bride's mother wore a nylon print dress with white accessories and corsage of yellow roses and the groom's mother wore a navy ensemble with corsage of pink roses.

The head table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and the tables were decorated with lilacs and tulips. Rev. Dawson proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

For their honeymoon trip to California the bride changed to a pink summer suit with navy accessories.

The young couple will make their home on the groom's farm near Barons.

Last week your correspondent had a most interesting interview with Nancy Smith who, with her two children, David and Joan, have recently returned from England. Joan, who is only four may not remember too much of the trip for very many years, but David who is nearly six is still enthused about the things he saw and heard. The trip was made on the Cunard ship Samaria and in both crossings the children proved to be better sailors than their mother. They were hardly sea sick at all but poor Nancy certainly suffered. In spite of this she enjoyed the trips and says that the food, entertainment and hospitable manners on the ship were certainly things to be remembered and appreciated for a long time to come. On the voyage to England the ship was not fully booked with passengers but on the return trip it was loaded. The reason for this lies in the fact that from England to Canada the ship was carrying a full load of immigrants coming to this country. In fact when she attempted to change her booking for an earlier one she was told that it would be impossible because all the ships belonging to that line were booked solid from March to October with immigrants coming to Canada.

Of course a great deal of the time was spent with Nancy's mother, Mrs. Peacock, whom many will remember from her visit to this community several years ago. Although Mrs. Peacock is crippled with arthritis in one hip she still manages to get around and plans to fly to the States to visit with her other daughter sometime this fall. Now for just a brief glimpse of the weather as the Smith family saw it. As you will remember from radio reports last winter, England was blanketed in a dense fog for months on end. Nancy says that in the six months that they were there they had about two months of weather that they could travel in. Most of their stay was spent in London and of course before they left many of the decorations for the coronation were up and in every shop window were pictures of the Queen and other members of the royal family.

While in London, Nancy took the children to see the London Zoo which is of world wide renown and which she herself had never seen. Needless to say the children were agog. They also went to see Windsor Castle and walked through its beautiful grounds. They could not go into the State Rooms that are usually opened to the public because of alterations and redecorating for the coronation. However, they did go through St. George's Chapel and it is truly beautiful beyond description. Of main interest to David while at the Castle were the soldiers with their tall bearskin buses. Like something out of a fairy tale. But of all the wonders of London nothing caught the amazement and wonder of the little boy from Canada like the big double decker buses. They were truly marvelous for him. But then something else that David liked and cried when he had to leave was the small church school that his grandmother enrolled him in. The vicar thought it would be nice to have a Canadian boy in school for awhile but by the time he had to leave he was almost a cockney boy and in his talk you can certainly hear his English schooling.

When asked if she could see much change in the England that she went back to from the England that she left Nancy said that in her home town of Leicester the biggest change was the new buses in place of the old trams. In London a great deal of building had taken place in war wrecked areas. Otherwise things seemed to be pretty much the same. There were the same small trains (David wanted to know where you would sleep on those trains, and of course you don't because you can get to anywhere in England in one day's ride, pretty little churches and close neighbors. In England, unless you have a very long way to go, you walk. Of course Nancy was very much out of practise because over here you never walk where you can ride. At first her feet and legs got so tired but before she left she had learned the art all over again. As for living conditions in England things don't seem to be bad at all. Everything is off ration except fats and meat.

Some foods cost a lot but bananas are the only thing that is really scarce. Food is expensive but clothing and foot wear is cheaper there than it is here. Their big cry is for fats of all kinds but otherwise they are doing fine. Of course with all the foggy cold weather Nancy and the children nearly froze in the houses that were heated only with fireplaces. The open fires were very nice and cheerful to sit in front of but oh the misery of going upstairs and trying to stay warm from the memory of that fire. Not many houses in the Old Country have central heating as yet. But now the trip is over and only the memories remain and we hope that they are principally happy ones.

Well we can't all go to England and endure the fog but we can stay here and endure rain and that is exactly what we have had again this week. All the plans that were made for the weekend had to again be called off, some of them for good. The sports day that was to be held on Friday is cancelled and at present each of the teachers are planning to have a picnic for their own room and not get the whole school together at all. It is now too near exam time. In spite of a heavy rain which fell on Saturday afternoon, a dance was held that night with a small crowd putting in an appearance. There was no orchestra but the dancing was carried on to records. Next Saturday there is to be another dance and every week following.

Speaking of departmental exams it seems that there will be four students writing Grade 12 exams and 10 writing Grade 9 exams. Best of luck to each and every one of them for the coming week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hellevang went to Calgary to the stock car races last week. It is not known if anyone else accompanied them.

Fishing in Lake McGregor goes on in spite of rain or hail and here is one boy who does a good job of it too. Denny Beckner got a nine pound pike.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson and two children of Victoria, B.C. were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith last week.

The residents of Milo are thinking of importing some cows from farms of the district to mow the grass that is growing all over town. With all this wet weather the grass is outdoing itself this year and in places it is so high that small children could get lost in it. So come on farmers, take your Jerseys to town with you next Saturday night and give them a night on the town too.

It is with deep regret that we learned of the sudden death of Mrs. Skratoff and the sincere sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved family.

Mrs. Irvin Sukut and baby daughter spent several days in Calgary last week and now Mrs. Russell Mills and Blaine Sukut are in the city.

When you're up to your neck in hot water, Be like a kettle and sing.

MAJORVILLE

Majorville has progressed with the rest of our country, most of the homemakers use propane for cooking and propane also heats a number of homes. High power lines lead to a number of homes also with its resultant stoves, fridges, deep freezers etc., but alas and alack Majorville still requires horse and buggy to travel and who owns such an outfit now. Summer is here and with rain and still more rain our roads are beyond description at times. School children who travel to school by bus have had some interesting experiences going to and coming from school. Last Friday Joanne Seather and three of her school mates got off the bus at the corner of the road leading to Joanne's home and took off their shoes and socks to walk the last mile home. On reaching Hugh Winch's, Carl Johnson was over two hours later than his usual time and he was on his 14 miles from school. He still had the east children to get home. It is reported he got stuck by Alf Vingie's and it was after eight before he completed his route. It's time something was done about having a few roads gravelled in our district.

Mrs. Jack Armstrong of Hussar spent a few days last week with her sister Mrs. B. Hingley.

Father's Day brought home the daughters and sons-in-law of Fred Bertschy. Also visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Bertschy on Sunday were Mrs. Wm. Francis and Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jacobson and family of Enchant met the latter's parents at the lake on Sunday and enjoyed a picnic together. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Francis of Shoultice were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. H. Winch.

Local enthusiasts of the rod and reel who have been to the river to catch the big fellows who got away last year and the year before say the big ones are still getting away. Even the little fellows aren't being caught very often either so if you intend to go to the river to have fish for supper, better take the can opener and a can of salmon along. The river is very high and is too muddy for pleasure at the present time.

VACCINATE AGAINST BLACKLEG

Losses from Blackleg have already been reported this spring. Most of these losses could have been prevented if a vaccination program had been carried on, advises Dr. E. E. Ballantyne, director of Veterinary Services, Alberta Department of Agriculture. Vaccination is the best means of protecting cattle against this disease. Care should be taken when buying a bacterin to make sure the bacterin is a good one and that it has been kept under refrigeration at the temperature recommended by the manufacturer. It should be kept under refrigeration at home until used. Bacterin should not be used after the expiration date nor should any bacterin left from the year before be used.

Since blackleg and malignant oedema are very similar and occur in the same areas, cattlemen are urged to use a bacterin that will protect cattle against both diseases. Your veterinarian can suggest a good bacterin.

The bacteria that cause blackleg and malignant oedema from spore which can live in the soil for years, Dr. Ballantyne warns. Once the disease occurs on a farm, a yearly program of vaccination is necessary. Any dead animal should be burnt or buried deeply so other animals won't come in contact with it.

Milo News

A most enjoyable wedding dance was sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Boyd, a newly married couple of the district. As there hadn't been a dance held on a Friday in this community for several weeks and as Mr. and Mrs. Boyd had a wide circle of friends throughout the district, the turnout to the dance was large indeed. Even with the roads in the bad condition in which they are, there was a good representation from several districts round about Milo, including Vulcan, Armada, Lomond, Majorville, Queenstown and Arrowwood. A lovely lunch was served by the family and friends and a purse of money was presented to the couple by Bob Umscheid on behalf of those gathered there. Thanks for the dance Mr. and Mrs. Boyd and may your stay in the district be a long and happy one.

On Monday morning dull and rainy to start out with but later in the day turning sunny, 17 men of the community gathered at what is now the home of Mrs. Myrtle Monner to pour cement for the foundation of a new house. Bob and Muriel Monner are planning on constructing a site just south and west of house already there. Starting at ten o'clock in the morning and finishing at five in the afternoon they had laid 35 yards of cement. It would have taken Bob a long time to pour it himself wouldn't it? But that shows once again the spirit that exists in this community when it comes to help your neighbor.

School is out today, the day this column is being written, and the good luck wishes for the students who wrote departmental exams will not be in print until the exams in question are over. But then that is the fate of a news column that must travel on the Russian Kistie Flyer. But in any case the kids are free today from all the pressing worries that have been so gargantuan to them for the past several months. If only their problems were never any worse than they are now. But happy holidays to you anyway.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bartsch and Mr. and Mrs. George McMorris attended the meeting of the South ern Club of Aberdeen Angus breed ers last week. It was held in the districts to the south of us. These meetings, among other things, take the form of visits to different farms where the black cattle are raised. Last week they visited the farms of Buchanan, Higgenbottom and Hawkinstien. They looked over the cattle being readied for showing and submit and discuss various ideas that they have formed. After visiting the Hawkinstien farm, they were entertained by that family at Waterton Lakes Park with a banquet.

The meeting next month will be held on July 26 and will be in this district with the various members visiting at the Bartsch, McMorris and Arrowwood Farming Company farms. Anyone who is at all interested in black cattle are cordially invited to attend this meeting which will begin at either the Bartsch or McMorris farm.

It is with regret that we learned of the accident to befall Joy Flock. She fell from the roof of the garage behind the Red and White Store and broke her arm above the elbow. She now is home but a much quieter little girl.

Mrs. Tom Clark entertained the teachers of the Milo school in fare well party last week. If present plans are carried out, the Carsons and Clark families will be back again next year and Don Koob all is planning on a return bout with his pupils. But the other teachers Misses Hannah, and John Howe are not planning on returning. However a shop teacher has been procured and it is planned that if at all possible a Home Economics teacher will be hired also. Good bye to those leaving and good luck in your new schools.

With The District Agriculturist

Hugh Michael,

Farm Workers Required In Ontario

Farm workers are required in Ontario to help with general farm work, haying and harvesting. Through the Dominion Provincial Labour agreement farm workers from the three, Prairie Provinces are recruited for work in Ontario. Later on when harvesting operations are about to commence in the Prairie Provinces farm workers from the East are recruited to come west and help with the harvest here. Every year several hundred workers from the East come out West. However, the number of workers sent West depends to quite an extent on the number of Western workers who volunteer to work in Ontario. This arrangement works out well most years, as the haying and harvest season is usually earlier in Ontario, and the workers who go from the West can be back in time for the harvest here.

Farm workers who wish to take advantage of this excursion can secure a ticket to Ontario for the sum of $10.00 providing they receive a transportation warrant from a district agriculturist or from the local office of the National Employment Service. Upon presentation of the transportation warrant plus $10.00 to the railway agent, day coach accommodation will be provided on regular trains. No meals or berths will be supplied. Tickets will be made out to Toronto or Ottawa, at which point the worker will be met by a government official, and further transportation will be provided to the locality of the farm where the worker is referred.

Workers are required to return home between August 15 and 31st. The final date of ticket purchase being August 29.

Wages are a matter of arrangement between individual employer and the farm worker. Experienced workers may obtain up to $100 per month after proving ability.

Anyone who would like to take advantage of this harvest excursion to Ontario should contact their local district agriculturist or National Employment Service office without delay.

Spraying Oats With 2,4-D

at the time the crop was treated. Further studies and observations have shown that oats tended to be more readily and severely damaged by 2,4-D than either wheat or barley. Intensive studies have therefore been underway in the past three years at the Experiment Station, Scott, Sask., to determine the proper time and rate of application of 2,4-D to control weeds in oats.

These tests have shown oats to be sensitive to 2-b-D if sprayed.

The use of herbicides for the control of annual weeds in grain crops has been very readily and widely adopted by farmers on the prairies. Experimental results as well as farmers' observations quickly showed that the grain crops were sometimes injured by the 2,4-D treatment. The severity of this damage appeared to depend largely upon the stage of growth during the period from emergence to the early shot blade stage. This crop was found to be most susceptible at the time when the first nodes were beginning to form or the plants were fully tillered and some 6 to 8 inches tall. Spraying at this stage of growth should be avoided. Spraying can most safely be done from the time that the stems begin to elongate and the shot blade has begun to form, the plants usually being 8 to 10 inches tall at this time, until the early boot or pre-heading stage. In those seasons when the annual weeds
